UPPER PENINSULA NEWS

(From Geo. W. Rowell, Jr. Marquette)

Marquette, Mich., Oct. 7.—"Figures presented by Thomas B. Wyman to the effect that Cloverland's forest fire losses will total but $8,700 during 1916 show that the upper peninsula suffered much less than ever before in its history," said Leo C. Harmon, president of The Upper Peninsula Development bureau, here today.

"Some of the Cloverland newspapers have accepted Mr. Wyman's figures as indicating that the loss is large this year, but that is not true. A perusal of the figures of William R. Oates, state game, fish and forest fire commissioner, show that the loss in 1916 amounted to $18,020 while in 1913 it was $43,190. That means that this year the loss is one-fifth that of 1913 and less than one-half that of last year. That shows more progress for Cloverland."

In 1913 the Delta county loss alone was $11,685 while Marquette suffered to the extent of $21,190 and Schoolcraft $6,500. In 1915 Chippewa sustained a loss of $11,831. These figures show that year after year some one county had a heavy loss. This year such was not the case.

The great decrease in losses is due to the activity of Commissioner Oates, who widely circulated articles and posters showing the danger in forest fires. His wardens and those of insurance companies were also very active with the result that they held the fires in check.

Mr. Oates declared that forest fires will cease when the public is educated to the point of seeing the dangers caused by carelessness. He said that he was sure that 1916 was the banner year and that he hoped to see a great cut next year.

Escanaba, Mich., Oct. 7.—A rooster that sets on eggs, hatches them and then raises the chicks, is the remarkable possession of Charles R. Hutcheson of this city who has several farms in Delta county.

"I think that the rooster realizes the great amount of work the hens have to do for they have been laying eggs with great regularity all summer," said Mr. Hutcheson. "As a result the rooster has taken it upon himself to do the 'household' labors."

Escanaba, Mich., Oct. 7.—John Semmer, a Delta county farmer, is authority for the statement that he bought fourteen wethers last fall for $4.50 per head, wintered them at a cost of $2 per head and then sold the wool and meat at a profit of $5.40 per head. He got ten pounds of wool from each, sold it at 32 cents a pound thus getting $3.20. The sheep were sold for 14 cents a pound thus averaging $7.70 each. He got $1.00 for the pelts, making a total of $11.90. The low cost of "maintenance" was due to the abundance of clover and wild grass food.

Metropolitan, Mich., Oct. 7.—Farmers near here have organized a Guernsey Breeders' association. Pure bred aires have been secured in order to better Dickinson county stock.

Marquette, Mich., Oct. 7.—More than 5,000 acres of Cloverland lands have been sold during the last few weeks to cattle men who intend to fatten stock on the wild grasses and clover which grow in abundance here. Climate conditions, shipping facilities and proximity to markets are added inducements to the cattle men. Many Cloverland farmers intend to secure stock to fatten and sell in the spring because of the expected rise in prices. This has been the best season known in Cloverland for cattlemen and dairy-men.

Sidnaw, Mich., Oct. 7.—The "Golden Rule" so far as visitors and employees at the Roycroft farm are concerned, is given by Walter S. Prickett as the reason for his success.

No smoking, no swearing, no expectorating and an oath that the visitor has no form of tuberculosis is required at the farm. Mr. Prickett declares that his cattle and chickens are high class in every respect and that conduct unbecoming to a gentleman might have a bad effect on his possessions. Hence the Golden Rule.

No person is allowed on the famous Jersey farm without a permit from Mr. Prickett. In the meantime his "Golden Rule products" continue to have a big demand despite the fact that this great 600 acre farm has been cut out of the center of a great forest.

Escanaba, Mich., Oct. 7.—Paul Charlotte, a "business" farmer, claims that he has made a profit of $4,000 off his 160 acre farm this season. He has all the labor saving devices, such as milking machines. His twenty head of milch cows, he says, were the most profitable thing he had. He keeps a record of his farm just as though it were a grocery store or any business house.

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 7.—Nearly One Million dollars will be spent in the fifteen counties of Cloverland for better roads. The Upper Peninsula already boasts of the best highways in the Middle West and its citizens aim to hold up that reputation. A strong bid is being made for tourists and lake resort folk.

Escanaba, Mich., Oct. 7.—This city will be the scene of the largest potato show Michigan has ever known on Nov. 1, 2, and 3. The entire state will be represented for the first time. In former years the lower and upper peninsulas have had individual shows.

St. Quentin.
St. Quentin, the French town, was in Roman times the capital of the Gaulish Vermandens and took its present title from Calixtus Quintinus, who came thither to preach Christianity and suffered martyrdom. Both Spain and Scotland have an interest in St. Quentin, for Philip II, built the Escorial in fulfillment of a vow made in case of success when besieging the town in 1557, and when the place was restored to France in 1559 it became part of the dowry of Mary, queen of Scots, who drew the revenues until her death.—London Chronicle.
